Within the training program in King Abdulaziz and his companions foundation for giftedness and creativity "Mauhiba" Which includes the Olympics of chemistry, physics and mathematics, Student Jana Abdelmeniem Al-sinan from the 8th grade has been nominated for the extensive training for the Olympics while Student Jana Ali Al-dossary has joined the field of Mathematics and later was nominated to join the international Olympic teams. It is important to note that the training program was held in Princess Nourah Bint Abdul Rahman University, Riyadh and required 60 hours of training.

The annual reading festival begins on the fifteenth of January

There is an idea behind every book, and with every idea there is a step forward.. steps that create a generation to lead and read, a generation that is aware and open-minded enough to observe the whole world. We will be glad to meet with you at the 14th annual reading festival in DAS where you will find a wide collection of well-selected books and stories that are categorized according to students age as well as many events and workshops. The morning period will be for schools students, the evening period will be for families.. so we eagerly wait for you.. and welcome to our schools.

We work together

'we work together' is one of the activities under the title " I am a child reader" which aims at encouraging children to read, the activity serves the standards and criteria of the Arabic Language (reading, watching & presenting, speaking and listening, writing) which are useful strategies to memorize learning and link it to everyday-life. The activity was presented with families collaboration so they can have the chance to understand how to work with their children and then apply the strategies at home in order to have consistency in education which will reflect positively on the child, because whenever there is a collaboration between school and home, there is a chance to enhance the development of the child.

At the 14th Annual Reading Festival in Dahr-an Ahliyyah Schools, We offer a wide selection of books that are classified according to the age group.

Eighth graders engage in the process of research and learning in the community projects

Students in the 8th grade (boy & girls) are engaging in the interesting process of research and learning through completing the "personal projects" subject that focuses on society and community service, Its goals vary between awareness-raising, active participation, research, education, innovation, improving behaviors or advocacy to make students aware of their rights and responsibilities so they can perform services that help the society. Mrs. Ameenah Abdulsamad has supervised many different projects with variable goals, benefitting from social media.. these projects include 'spreading happiness project' which was executed throughout many activities and broadcasted on Instagram accounts that belong to students (Nourah Alafaliq, Alyia Alturki, Farah Alrbeesh) and another project to spread awareness about first aid for the Elementary Level by (Jana Alzahid,Layan AbuKbous, Shahla' Alhussain), while students (Leen Alqah-tani, Nouf Alkhraiji, Rama Al Ettaieb) participated in a project to raise awareness about special needs and also translating educational games for children with learning difficulties and many other programs and community projects that serve different community groups and make a positive impact locally and globally.
